

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A low pressure backseat sealing apparatus having a flexible sealing lip which contacts the backseat prior to contact between a stem shoulder and the backseat, with the stem shoulder positioned above the flexible lip, thereby limiting stem movement while allowing internal valve pressure to achieve a seal between the flexible lip and the bonnet.

5